

Everything Comes Alive with Cherry Pie: Stories of Life at the End of Life

Marcia Brennan, PhD

Carolyn & Fred McManis Professor of Humanities
Professor of Religion and Art History, Rice University

Marcia Brennan is literary artist in residence at MD Anderson Cancer Center and at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. She'll share case studies relating to taste, voice, speech, power, and the uniqueness of human identity.

Painting courtesy of Carol Korpi McKinley

Tuesday, February 13th

11am-Noon (Mountain Time) via ZOOM

Learning Objectives:

- Attendees will learn communication techniques for engaging extremely vulnerable patients at end of life.
- Gain a novel perspective on psychosocial oncology.
- Gain insights into humanistic themes that arise at the end of life.
- Gain valuable perspectives on issues relating to the mouth and to voice with advanced cancer patients.
- Participants will see how engagement with food, chemotherapy, and medication management directly impact patients' quality of life.

RSVP

Join us for this inaugural event in a new series creating unique learning opportunities
utilizing ethical analysis, arts and humanities for the advancement of the dental profession.

National Collaborative on Humanities & Ethics in Dentistry

 UTHealth Houston

McGovern Center for Humanities and Ethics

Center for Bioethics and Humanities

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO
ANSCHUTZ MEDICAL CAMPUS

